Dr. Julie Lawrence-Edsell, Pace School of Performing Arts One-Hour Shakespeare: More Comedies and Tragedies (01.5)

TheOneHour Shakespeare HULHV LV D FROOHFWLRQ RI DEULGJHG plays, designed specifically to accommodate both small and large casts. My proposal is to create a fifth volume of the series with four additional plays. Volumes one through four were published in January of 2020. The multiear process included editing 16 plays, all performance vetted by PPA BFA actors since 2015. These projects are culminating lesson team does do as capstone projects

Ideal for both academics and professionals,-Goer Shakespeare is the perfect companion toteaching and staging the most universally read and performed playwright in history. In the United States, over 90% of the 125,000 pary schools incorporate arts education into their curriculum. There are approximately 90 professional Shakespeare Theatre Companies in the US, all with educational programs. Additionally, there are over 100 colleges or universities with performing artsprograms in the United States.

This fifth volume in the series fore Comedies and Tragedjessould include the following plays:

‡Antony and Cleopatra

#Comedy of Errors

#King Lear

‡Taming of the Shrew
